Paving scheduled for US 23 in Greenup and Ashland For next two weeks

FLEMINGSBURG, Ky. – Motorists using US 23 in Greenup and Boyd counties will encounter one-lane work zones, and possible delays, the next two weeks as part of two Kentucky Transportation Cabinet highway improvement projects.

Beginning Monday, July 30, contractors will pave US 23 in Greenup County from KY 410 to the Little Sandy River bridges at Greenup. The four-lane highway will be reduced to one lane each direction during daytime work hours, approximately 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., through Friday, Aug. 3.

In Boyd County, paving is scheduled to begin Monday, Aug. 6, on a section of US 23 between downtown Ashland and the Greenup County line. Work will take place at night, approximately 7 p.m. to 7 a.m., from the Winchester-Greenup Avenue split past Hoods Creek Pike to the county line. Traffic will be one lane each direction during work hours.

Motorists using the highway during work hours should expect possible delays. Watch for flaggers, heed all warning signs, slow down in work zones and remain aware of construction equipment when traveling.
